

Solve 4 Common Dealership Challenges with Inventory Management

Car dealerships face a number of challenges brought on by today's fast-paced, digital world. Consumers expect a quick sales process, which puts pressure on all aspects of the dealership to operate at peak efficiency. Missteps in the sales process can lead to unhappy customers and low CSI scores, or even worse—lost sales. Front-end profits are shrinking, and many dealers are in search of high-margin add-ons and customer retention tools.
